SEIZURE OF WET SHIPS UNLIKELY, ROW THREATENED

Treasury Officials Declare Liquor Transportation Will Cease.

BULLETIN

Washington, June 28.—Aroused by the publication of authorized statements that the government contemplated the seizure of foreign ships carrying liquor into the American ports, Acting Secretary of the Treasury, E. G. B. Gilbert, today called upon the prohibitionists to explain how reports had been circulated, and announced flatly that no change was planned in the present policy of the treasury department of enforcing the dry ship resolution.

Washington, June 28.—A sudden proposal originating with prohibition liquor into American ports should be seized and the captains arrested, caused considerable agitation in diplomatic circles here today and threatened to stir up a row between the state and treasury departments.

It was announced officially at the treasury, however, that seizures are not contemplated and that such a step is not being given serious consideration.

Secretary of State Hughes was besieged with inquiries from diplomats of countries whose ships would be affected by such action. His responses to such questions were that the government has made no decision beyond the pending order to seize liquors which are brought in above a quantity required for medicinal use.

Secretary Hughes previously had conferred with Acting Secretary of the Treasury Gilbert who informed Hughes the treasury had not altered the policy of Secretary Mellon in any way. Gilbert did inform the secretary that the treasury is worried by the continued arrival of additional ships because it has added to the burdens of the government's force at New York.

There was comment that some "suggestion" could properly be made to the foreign ship lines or in addition to the foreign governments under which such ships operate, to discontinue the practice of transporting beverages liquors into American waters.

Treasury officials denied that the government seriously considers seizures will be necessary as assurances already have been received both at the treasury and state departments that after the voyages of the ships now enroute to New York and the "test cases" are recorded, no further liquors will be transported.

Present Generation Not Serious Enough Declares Pedagogue

Cedar Point, June 28.—Dr. George E. Scrayner, Columbia university, dwelling on school financing, and Dr. W. P. Davidson, superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, were the speakers at the final session of the 76th annual convention of the Ohio State Teachers association here today.

Dr. Davidson declared that the present generation "is not serious enough."

Two thousand teachers attending the meeting will leave this afternoon.

Stating in his petition that he was injured to such an extent that he will never fully recover, Frank Garrett, 19, of East Palestine, through his next friend, Elmer Garrett, has brought a damage action against John Ulbright for $3,108.14.

Garrett claims that as he was walking along the road from East Palestine to Jimtown, a suburb, he was hit by a car owned by the defendant and injured.

WHITFIELD READY TO ENTER FORMAL NOT GUILTY PLEA

Alleged Slayer Of Officer Displays Anxiety As To His Fate.

CLAIMS SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Inquires About Marie Price, Youthful Sweetheart Of Accused Man.

Cleveland, June 28.—Displaying considerable nervousness John L. Whitfield, alleged slayer of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, was waiting in a cell at the county jail today for his arraignment before Common Pleas Judge Bernon.

The prosecuting attorney's office announced that Whitfield would be taken before the court to enter his formal plea to the indictment charging first degree murder during the day.

Whitfield said that he would enter a plea of not guilty. He displayed considerable anxiety as to his fate. "I wonder what the county will do with me," he remarked. "They can't do anything though, but find me not guilty. I didn't kill the policeman and they can't prove it did."

Whitfield asked for the "best lawyer in town."

He also inquired about his youthful sweetheart, Marie Price. Whitfield insisted she was 18 years old, instead of 14 as stated by her mother.

Accidentally Shot, He Says

"At Madison, Wis., the detectives told me they didn't want me and to 'beat it,'" Whitfield continued. "I could have escaped at Detroit, if I'd have wanted to. A half hour after the letter was written to the Cleveland police, I was 'tipped off.' I just stayed and let them come and get me. I was going to return to Cleveland and give up anyway."

Whitfield refused to eat breakfast this morning. He said he was sick and couldn't sleep all night.

Immediately after arraignment the authorities were contemplating calling for a special venire of jurors from which the 12 men who will try Whitfield will be selected.

There was some question whether or not Marie Price would testify. From Fort Wayne, Ind., her condition was reported as delicate and she may not be able to appear if the trial is held within the next month.

Whitfield's latest statement to the police declared that Griffin died in his automobile, the body falling out as the indicted gunman sped away.

Earlier he declared after Griffin accidentally shot himself the police man got out of the car and walked away.

MILLIONS PLEDGED TO THWART WETS

Anti-Saloon League Ready To Block Attempts To Alter Dry Laws.

Westerville, O., June 28.—The Anti-Saloon League of America will spend $2,500,000 during the next year to fight what they charge is a concerted effort of the liquor interests to break down dry enforcement in the United States through repeal or weakening of state enforcement acts, and attempts to modify the Volstead act.

Twice that sum can be raised if necessary.

This was announced by Dr. P. A. Baker, general superintendent, to state superintendents from 43 states here after national officers had listened to the reports of each of the state heads on conditions in their own states.

The reports by states, analyzed by Wayne B. Wheeler, showed that wets and dries will engage in hot fights at the primaries and elections next year, which will make the liquor question a major issue in the following states: Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, California, Missouri, Nevada and Louisiana.

Of these states, Maryland has no state enforcement law and New York has repealed its state enforcement act. Maryland never has passed one. Massachusetts has recently passed an enforcement act which goes to referendum this fall.

Dedication Of Masonic Temple Is Most Memorable Event In Fraternal History

ASSAILS PROPAGANDA FOR RELIGIOUS UNREST

Nothing In Masonry That Teaches You To Hate Anyone Because They Differ From You In Religious Beliefs, Declares Cong. Murphy.

"There is not one word in Masonry or in the great book upon which Masonry is founded that teaches you as a man or as a Mason to hate anyone because they differ from you in their religious beliefs."

With this message, hurled straight from the shoulder, Congressman B. Frank Murphy of Steubenville, deputy grand commander of Ohio Knights Templar and orator of the day at the Masonic dedicatory ceremonies Wednesday afternoon, launched a stirring indictment against propagandists outside the order who are trying to stir up religious warfare.

Congressman Murphy referred to his experiences in war camps when his quarters were used by ministers of the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths to instill religion into the boys in camp.

"It meant the very safety of the nation," he asserted. "If you keep alive in the breasts of the boys the religion they got from their mothers, they will go out and fight to their death for America."

"This is America, the land of hope where freedom is everywhere but sometimes we lose sight of the meaning of that word when we want it to stop where our own desire begins."

Assails Propagandists

"In a Masonic lodge there never was a word uttered that caused Masons to hate their neighbors because they have other religious beliefs. If you seem to think that the lodge takes the place of the church, I ask you to examine yourselves, to study Masonry."

"If you can't point to any degree that will tell you to become better citizens, then you misunderstand Masonry. For Masonry is as broad as the sunlight; it embraces nothing that would lead you to hate your neighbor because he may not be of your faith."

"I love Masonry because it has done so much for the country I love. But today propaganda is attacking the religion of the living God. As Masons you must stand for what the great book teaches; you must take the place in the community that is rightly yours."

Stuerer was taken to the City hospital where it was found that the leg could be saved although all bones in the upper part of his leg were broken.

PARADE FEATURES PUBLIC CEREMONY IN CITY WEDNESDAY

Hundreds Of Masons Gather For Day's Ceremonies In New Building.

TEMPLE DEDICATED IN SECRET SESSION

Many Features Contribute To Success Of Masons Day Of Festivities.

Salem's new Masonic temple on Newell ave., built at a cost of $150,000 was dedicated in full Masonic ceremony Wednesday afternoon amid scenes that will go down as the most memorable in the fraternal history of Salem.

Hundreds of Masons and their wives from all over Columbiana county, from other cities near Salem and from all sections of Ohio gathered to participate in this day's ceremonies. They spent the early hours inspecting the beautiful temple, later participating in a parade and then the dedicatory exercises and in the evening enjoying the social festivities that marked the climax of a most successful program.

More than 800 Masons participated in the parade through the main streets and several hundred others, grouped on the steps and about the Masonic temple, watched the perfectly formed lines of their brother Masons. Alliance and Salem commanderies of Knights Templar in full regalia gave a picturesque touch to the scene and the martial airs were provided by three bands—Quaker City band of Salem, the Alliance City band and the Presbyterian band of Lisbon. The Grotto band of Youngstown scheduled to appear in the parade failed to arrive.

Dedicatory Ceremonies

Nearly 2,000 Masons and their wives participated in the day's program and McKinley ave. and Main st. were lined on both sides by interested spectators. While the Masons were conducting their secret dedicatory ceremonies in the temple following the parade the women were entertained at the State theater.

Worshipful Master Arthur I. Justice of Perry lodge No. 185, F. & A. M., turned the lodge session over to the grand lodge officers, who conducted the dedication according to Masonic custom. Past Grand Master Frank S. Harmon of Cleveland presided as acting grand master and was assisted by the following acting members of the grand lodge:

Deputy grand master, O. P. Sperra, Ravenna; senior grand warden, James B. Huhl, Cleveland; junior grand warden, Allen M. Baldwin, Ravenna; grand treasurer, Robert H. Perry, East Liverpool; secretary, Jesse Sturgeon, Salem; chaplain, T. T. Church, Salem; orator, Frank Murphy, Steubenville; marshal, B. Frank Thomas, Youngstown; senior deacon, George E. McNabb, Youngstown; junior deacon, Robert E. Lea, Cleveland; senior steward, Irvin Stafford, Cleveland; junior steward, Joseph Callahan, Salem; grand architect, J. G. Augustine, Salem; bearers of lights, Joseph T. Croxall, East Liverpool; L. S. Converse, Cleveland; T. G. Reese, Salem; Homer O. Wilson, Hanoverton; Patrick Redington, Salem; Harry C. Neigh, Lisbon; Dan B. Jones, Youngstown; I. D. Campbell, Salem; grand tyler, E. I. Kille, Salem.

During these services quartet selections were sung by E. V. Burt, T. G. Reese, Charles Cornwall and H. G. Holdridge.

Sentiment was added to the occasion when Rev. P. W. Macaulay of Lisbon, in behalf of Past Master I. D. (Continued on fourth page.)

WOMAN MUST GIVE LIFE FOR MURDER

Jurors Declare Mrs. Buzzi Guilty Of Slaying Man She Lived With.

New York, June 28.—A woman will pay the supreme penalty for murder—death in the electric chair—unless the governor intervenes or a new trial is granted.

A jury of men made this decision late last night, when they found Mrs. Buzzi, 36 years old, guilty of slaying Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor.

Sentence will be pronounced July 9—a sentence the law requires to be "death."

If Mrs. Buzzi goes to the chair, she will be the fourth woman in this state to die for a crime.

Only one woman has been electrocuted in New York—Mrs. Martha Place, at Sing Sing prison in 1899. Two others were hanged.

During the trial the state charged that Mrs. Buzzi, fearing she was about to lose the love of Schneider, with whom she had lived as his wife for eight years, shot him.

Schneider's body was found behind the wheel of his auto, standing in country lane.

DRESS REHEARSAL FOR TROOP'S PLAY

Girl Scouts Will Present "Dreams Come True" At Grand Friday.

A dress rehearsal for the playlet, "Dreams Come True," was staged Thursday giving promise of one of the finest entertainments ever presented in Salem by youthful talent. This production is to be presented at the Grand theater Friday night by 21 members of Thistle troop, Girl Scouts captained by Miss Rebecca Davis.

This troop has appeared before the public in numerous events in the past and Salemites are familiar with their ability in stage work. This entertainment, however, will by far outclass all previous enterprises in which the girls have participated.

The playlet opens showing an invalid child sitting in her garden dreaming and longing for the great outside world and its attractions. A dwarf creature calling himself "Dreams Come True" appears and he calls forth a group of performers who enact for the child's amusement a series of interesting sketches and stunts.

In the program will be a variety of farcical, vocal, dance and classical numbers. There will be but one act of the performance given in connection with the motion pictures at the Grand theater Friday night.

Some of the inside pages are published for 300 other parishes, thus lessening the expense. It will have quite a circulation in surrounding villages.

The rector is celebrating the 27th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Copyright Act.)

PAIN IN JOINTS
As far back as you can remember the word rheumatism and rheumatics were familiar to you.

Any pain anywhere was spoken of as a rheumatic pain. If not in a joint it was called muscular rheumatism.

You will remember that a few years back all these pains were blamed on the eating of meat. The cure was ab-staining from the meat and taking heavy doses of salts. It is now pretty generally admitted that there is no special disease called rheumatism, but that any poisonous matter getting into or about a joint will set up the trouble that has been called rheumatism.

And where does this poison come from?

From any point in the body. From bad teeth, bad tonsils, a poisoned wound in the flesh anywhere, and last but not least from poisonous products from the intestinal canal.

You will remember that many people treated these joints conditions with heavy doses of salts. They were thus on the right track very often.

Now what about it?

Well your common sense tells you that points in joints often become chronic and that permanent stiffness often ensues.

If then you begin to have pains in the joints get busy at once.

Start with the intestines and see that the bowels move regularly. Then take a look at your entire body. Have your doctor examine your throat and if you have any crown or bridge work have your dentist go over them for you with the assistance of the X-ray.

Perhaps there is some other part giving trouble. The point I want to make plain is that there is always some cause, some point from which absorption is taking place, and your job in life is to stay with it until it is located. You will likely find it if you look long enough.

And while you are looking for it, eat whole wheat bread, get outdoors and exercise that body of yours.

EVERGLADES ARE BEING RECLAIMED

FLORIDA REGION OF BATTLES AND ROMANCE IS BECOMING AGRICULTURAL LAND.

SCENE OF 'DADE'S MASSACRE'

Story of West Pointer and His Ill-Fated Expedition Against Chief Osceola and His Band of Seminole Indians.

Washington.—The understanding is that a considerable part of the Florida Everglades has been reclaimed for agricultural purposes. The word is that one day the wilderness of the Everglades and the romance connected therewith entirely will have departed.

Congress has discussed the Everglades from various angles on several occasions. Some years ago several departmental officials were put under half way suspicion of not being altogether straightforward in their dealings in connection with certain projects for reclaiming the lands, but this was a long time in the past.

It is a long way from the Everglades to West Point, but at the beginning of what is known as the academy as "Filtration Walk," a tree-embowered path-way dedicated in a way to Cupid, there stands a monument to Maj. Francis L. Dade, a West Pointer who was killed in the Everglades when he was leader of an expedition against Osceola and his Seminoles. Some years ago Representative Sparkman of Florida asked for a government appropriation of $5,000 to erect a memorial to Dade some-where near the scene of the battle in which the major and most of his command lost their lives. The government of the United States has the record of what is known as the "Dade massacre," and it is interesting reading today nearly a century after the tragedy.

Major Dade led an expedition into the Everglades against Osceola and his band. A soldier with a drop of Indian blood in his veins was chosen by Dade as a guide. The man led the command straight to an ambush, which was discovered fortunately just in time to save Dade and his men from an annihilation.

Escaped Trap, Died in Another.

There was a drumhead court-martial and the guide was sentenced to be shot at sunrise. His last request was granted. He removed from his person the uniform of the United States army and put on leggings and hunting shirt of deer skin. He painted his face and said that he was ready to die, and as the shots of the execution squad were fired his voice rang with the death song of the Seminole tribe.

Major Dade and his command escaped death on the day of the guide's treachery only to meet it later in the fastness of the Everglades. With one company of the famous old Fourth infantry and with the men of the two light batteries of artillery, Dade marched into the Everglades where the country was comparatively open, to give battle to a Seminole chief named Micanopy. The guide of this expedition was a negro named Lewis, and like the former guide, he was a traitor. Lewis had sent word to Micanopy, telling the Seminoles the trail by which he was to lead the whites.

Major Dade and his command reached a glade skirted by palmettos. The troops were in open order, marching carelessly along. Behind every palmetto, prone and silent, lay a Seminole. The Indians outnumbered the soldiers three to one, and from right to left by a previous understanding the braves had selected and covered with their rifles the men they were to kill.

The firing distance was less than 40 yards when Micanopy shouted a signal and every Indian rifle spoke. One-half of the unsuspecting troopers fell at the first discharge. Dade and Captains Gardner and Frazier were killed by the first volley. Lieut. J. I. Reids was shot through both arms, but he aided in rallying the survivors.

One Survivor of Massacre.

The soldiers had a light field piece with them, and by the use of cannister they scattered the savages, and afterward they managed to build a barricade of logs. The Seminoles circled to the rear and picked off the whites one by one. When the last man had fallen the Indians closed in and despoiled the dead. One man, sorely wounded, awoke to consciousness after the Seminoles had left and found himself the sole survivor of three companies of regulars. He managed to reach Fort King with the story of the Everglades fight that has passed into history as "Dade's massacre."

There is another story of the Everglades which still occasionally is told in army circles in Washington. As the story runs it was on the edge of the jungle country that Osceola, the Seminole, when asked to sign a treaty with the whites by which the Indians' land was to be given up drew his knife, stuck its blade through the document of transfer and said: "There is my signature."

He who prattles the honesty of today till tomorrow, will probably prattle his tomorrows to eternity. Lavater.

Recovery of Miss Jackson Is Talk of the Neighborhood

MISS VELMA JACKSON.

Miss Velma Jackson, 347 Goyenau st., attractive and popular member of the younger set of Windsor, is another whose deep sense of gratitude will not permit her to remain silent concerning the great benefit she has derived from the use of this Tanlac treatment. She says:

"I can never praise Tanlac enough for the good it has done me. It restored my health and built me up twenty-four pounds a year ago, and to this day I feel so well and strong life is just glorious. I had suffered from stomach trouble for three years, and was in such an awful condition I thought I would have to give up my position for I was already having to stay away from the office a week at a time."

"However, Tanlac, corrected my troubles, started me to eating, and sleeping like a child and my recovery was the talk of the neighborhood. I feel so well and strong I never miss a day from the office and enjoy my work and pleasure more than ever."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

COLUMBIANA

The Eastern Stars held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening, the occasion being degree work and inspection. At 6 o'clock dinner was served to about 80 members by the Ladies Guild of the Methodist church at the church dining rooms.

Mrs. Kate Dewese of Salem, inspected the lodge. Following the exercises at the lodge rooms, light refreshments were served. The lodge will not meet again until September.

About 25 Masons and their wives attended the dedication of the new Masonic temple at Salem Wednesday.

The ball game Sunday resulted in a score of 11 to 8 in favor of the Columbiana team, which defeated the Higby Fords of Youngstown. John Wentworth has resigned as manager of the team. A successor has not been elected.

Members of "The Class" of the Christian church will hold a festival on the lawn of James Agnew, Main St., Saturday evening.

Barr Appointed Marshal

At a meeting of council Tuesday evening, Jerome Benson resigned as marshal and William Barr was appointed in his place. Mr. Barr had been marshal of Columbiana for several years previous to four years ago.

J. Black of Cleveland, interested in oil developments about Columbiana, spent the greater part of the week in Columbiana.

Edith Rice is spending two weeks visiting in Sebring.

The Harry Alderman farm was sold recently to W. S. Sick, of Wampum, Pa. The Alderman family will move to Columbus.

A. D. Ladd, former superintendent of schools of East Palestine, was an interesting speaker at the Rotary meeting Monday evening. The club dined at Harry's place.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Birds' Working Hours.

Some birds work almost all day in the summer. They clear the crops of insects.

The thrush gets up at half past two every morning. He falls to work at once, and does not stop until half past nine at night—a clear 19 hours. During that time he feeds his young 206 times.

The blackbird starts work at the same hour as the thrush, but leaves off earlier. His whistle blows at half-past seven, and during his 17-hour day he sets about 100 meals before his family.

The titmouse is up at three in the morning, and his stopping time is nine at night. A fast worker, he is said to feed his young 417 times a day.

"Murder Woman" Had Legal Wife

Fred Thompson in two poses.

These two photographs are of Fred G. Thompson, held in Chicago on the charge of being the "bandit queen" who murdered Richard O. Tesmer, insurance broker, who tried to save his wife's wedding ring from a hold-up "woman." For 14 years Thompson has posed as "Mrs. Francis Carrick," wife of a chauffeur. The remarkable part of the dual life is that Thompson himself had a wife, Mrs. Marie Carrick, whom he married two years ago. This marriage so angered Carrick, who had "married" Thompson, that a fight resulted, ending in all three living together in a strange compact.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kerr, Mrs. Lynn Shearer and Howard Akkey of Canton are visiting at the home of Mrs. Clara Purson, Broadway. They attended the Masonic dance here Wednesday night.

Charles Wilson left Saturday for Mooseheart, Ill., as a delegate to the Moose convention in session there for one week.

DAUGHERTY WOULD RELEASE COAL MEN

Attorney General Requests Dismissal Of Charges Of Conspiracy.

Indianapolis, June 28.—Attorney General Daugherty moved to nolle pross the indictments against 127 coal operators and Mine Workers of America officials of 99 corporations charged with conspiracy to control prices and limit the production of coal, in the federal court here today.

"A careful investigation strongly supports the protest of the defendants that many of the things complained of by the government under the Sherman act," Daugherty said, "were in no small measure due to the efforts of those who were government officials during the war to bring about more intensive cooperation between operators, miners and railroads in the production, allotment and transportation of coal."

Briefly the indictments charged conspiracy in the restraint of trade, and to monopolize the trade in coal.

DEDICATION MOST MEMORABLE EVENT

Campbell and former Secretary J. B. Campbell of Perry lodge, presented the lodge a new Bible. Dr. T. T. Church accepted the gift in behalf of the lodge, referring to it as the greatest light in Masonry.

Tribute to R. V. Hampson. In his address Frank Murphy paid tribute to the memory of Robert V. Hampson, former grand commander of Ohio Knights Templar, and Grand Master Harmon added to this tribute by saying that 40 years ago he received his early enthusiasm for Masonry from Mr. Hampson. "He was a wise and discreet Mason an inspiration to every Mason," Harmon said.

Mr. Harmon also announced that the grand lodge acknowledged the gift from Mrs. Mary B. Casselberry which made possible this new temple.

Following this service the Knights Templar went into session and performed their beautiful ceremony of dedication and consecration of the new temple.

This was in charge of F. O. Schoedinger of Columbus Grand commander, and his retinue of grand commandery officers. They included the following:

Grand Commandery: Deputy grand commander, Frank Murphy; captain general, C. H. Vogel; generalissimo, E. G. Craun; senior warden, J. A. Palmer; junior warden, J. A. Wartman; warder, C. M. Wilson; captain of guard, J. A. Noble; standard bearer, Robert L. Quessner; sword bearer, J. H. Dickerson; recorder, Henry Schaefer; treasurer, D. E. Mather; prelate, Rev. David Evans.

Grand Commander Schoedinger and Grand Prelate Evans, both of Columbus, congratulated the Salem Masons on their accomplishment and spoke of the work of Masonry in general.

These ceremonies concluded the actual dedicatory program, the evening being devoted to social features.

CAMPAIGN OPENED BY FARM BUREAU

Lisbon, June 28.—Appreciable gains in membership of the Columbiana Farm bureau are forecast as a result of the present drive for recruits by more than 125 farm bureau workers, who Tuesday began a systematic combing of the entire county.

The membership effort, plans for which were formulated by C. E. Rowland, county agent, was preceded by a meeting of workers here Monday at which principal speakers were P. M. Glasgow and F. L. Schoenberger, of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation at Columbus. The next morning the band of workers, in automobiles, began an effort to visit every farmer not now affiliated with the bureau in an effort to make the county organization one of the biggest in the state.

Returns from the canvass have not been completed by the farm agent, who has been called to Wooster to attend an important meeting of extension and experiment station workers, farmers' institute lecturers, county agents and farm organization workers on the problem of farm marketing. The status of cooperative marketing in Ohio and plans for the future were mapped out.

Wednesday the same group met with Walter Petec, co-operative marketing director of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Double Shooting Unites Slayer And His Wife In Death

Insane Jealousy Made Him Act, Says Note Left By Husband.

Philadelphia, June 28.—Two lonely graves, widely separated, will mark the tragic ending to a double shooting designed by its perpetrator, Lawrence T. Price, a salesman of Highland Park, to unite himself and his wife in death.

Price shot and killed his wife while she lay asleep in her bed room Tuesday morning and then, locking the door, he killed himself.

Police investigating the double tragedy, have found a note in which Price declared that "insane jealousy" made him act and "ha had shot his wife while she slept so she might suffer no agony." The note was addressed to Price's mother, Mrs. Louis C. Schmidt of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and declared over all property to her.

The remainder of the note was a recital of business reversals and the estrangement between Price and his wife growing out of his resentment that she was attractive to other men. Price complained that his wife had not "made enough fuss over him" when he returned from a business trip recently.

Today the two children of the slain couple, Lawrence, Jr., 7, and Edward, 5, are being cared for by neighbors. "Mamma and papa are sick," is their idea of the situation.

Relatives, after a consultation, have decided to disregard the request in Price's note that he be buried with his wife and his body will probably be sent to his mother's home. That of Mrs. Price, who was Miss Carrie Culp of Pittsburgh, will be sent to her parents there.

State Veterinarian Says Tuberculosis Is Attacking Fowls

Dr. Alvin Broerman, state veterinarian, in an address at Ohio Poultry Day at the State Experiment station, said that tuberculosis of fowls, first reported about 25 years ago, is now prevalent in many sections of Ohio.

Infected birds became emaciated, and as the disease advances the feathers become ruffled, the comb and wattles pale, and the birds weak and inactive, although the appetite remains good.

A post mortem may show lesions in the liver and other organs. The tuberculin test for living birds consists of injecting a drop of avian tuberculin just beneath the surface of the wattle. If the bird is diseased a large swelling will appear at the seat of the inoculation in about 48 hours.

All diseased birds should be killed as there is no known treatment of value, and if the flock is badly infected, Dr. Broerman recommends that the entire flock be slaughtered at the end of the laying season, and that the buildings be thoroughly disinfected with carbolic acid or cresol in 5 per cent solution or that freshly slacked lime to which crude carbolic acid is added at the rate of 6 ounces to the gallon of lime be used as a spray. Rats, mice and other carriers of the disease he would have destroyed.

S. Steel rose 1/4 to 99 3/4; and Baldwin 1/4 to 119 1/4.

Studebaker advanced 1/2 to 100 1/4, but Chandler declined 1 1/4 to 48 1/4. Producers and Refiners yielded 3/4 to 74 1/4. Other oil stocks were steady.

UNCLE JOE TALKS ON BOOTS

Ex-Representative Cannon Stirred to Reminiscence by Sight of Pair of Cowhides.

Several members of congress were sitting on the western steps of the capitol, watching an unusually beautiful sunset beyond the wooded hills of Virginia, as they chatted upon various subjects, according to the National Republicans. The talking and looking, however, came to a sudden halt when a stranger strolled by wearing a pair of old-fashioned cowhide boots, with his pants (no, not trousers) stuffed into the tops.

"Boys," slowly remarked "Uncle Joe," "that's the first pair of cowhides I've seen in Washington in a dozen or so years. How well do I remember the old days when I wore them and greased them every little while with tallow! And, oh, what a job it was to work up a shine on them out in the woodshed when I wanted to go on a little courting trip!

"By the by, do you realize that a considerable affinity exists between men and boots? They both have like weaknesses and good qualities, and are similarly affected under certain circumstances.

"Boots go on feet; so do men.
"Boots have soles; so have men.
"Boots sometimes get tight; so do men.

"A boot will shine, if polished; so will a man.

"Some boots have red tops; so have some men.

"Some boots lose their soles; so do some men.

"Boots are tanned; so are men—mostly in their youth.

"Some boots can't stand water; neither can some men.

"When a boot is well soaked it is a hard case; so is a man.

"A boot to be of much account must have a mate; so must a man.

"A boot when well heeled always feels comfortable; so does a man.

"The less understanding there is in a boot the bigger it feels; so it is with a man."

PUT WIRELESS TO GOOD USE

Travelers on Ocean Liners May Engage Hotel Rooms Far in Advance of Their Landing.

A leading New York hotel is advertising a list of Marconi code words in an ocean travelers' guide to induce the making of reservations by wireless from ships. By the use of the words a passenger is able to reserve anything from the hotel suite to the grand ballroom by paying only for the transmission of a single code word, plus his own name and the name of his vessel. The hotel, by consulting lists of liner arrivals, is able to tell the date on which the reservation goes into effect.

Thus "ashes" is the code word for "reserve two double bedded rooms, two single rooms, sitting rooms and baths for —, arriving steamship." And "azure" is the code for "reserve three servants' rooms." The modest patron whose requirements are only a single room, cables "aback," which means "reserve single room."—New York York Sun.

Judge Wilmett Goes Home.

Delbert O. Wilmett, judge of the city court, had been holding an overtime court. His wife had invited friends for dinner and the judge was in a hurry to get home. He called on Captain Pope, who was in charge at the police station, for transportation. The driver of the car said he was not very familiar with the neighborhood where the judge lives, as the persons living there seldom call on the police to adjust their family differences, and it is possible that he was responsible for what happened. The driver said an automobile was parked in front of the Wilmett home, so he stopped in front of the house next door. In his defense, the judge says the two houses are alike. At any rate, it is said, the judge carefully removed his overshoes on his neighbor's doormat, and walked in on them unceremoniously.—Indianapolis News.

Century of British Artists.

The Royal Society of British Artists is making preparations to hold an exhibition in celebration of its one hundredth anniversary. The society will exhibit works by members and exhibitors ranging over the hundred years of its existence. The tracing of works of importance by some of the past exhibitors presents many difficulties, and the society would be glad to hear of owners (preferably in or near London, on account of the difficulty of transport) who would be willing to lend examples by the following artists: F. H. Potter, Henry Dawson, W. J. Muller, J. Glover, George Hunter, Kate Greenaway, D. Roberts, "Edinburgh Castle From the Grass Market" (exhibited 1832), R. B. Davis' "Coronation Procession of H. M. King William IV" (exhibited 1832).—London Observer.

Valuable Trees.

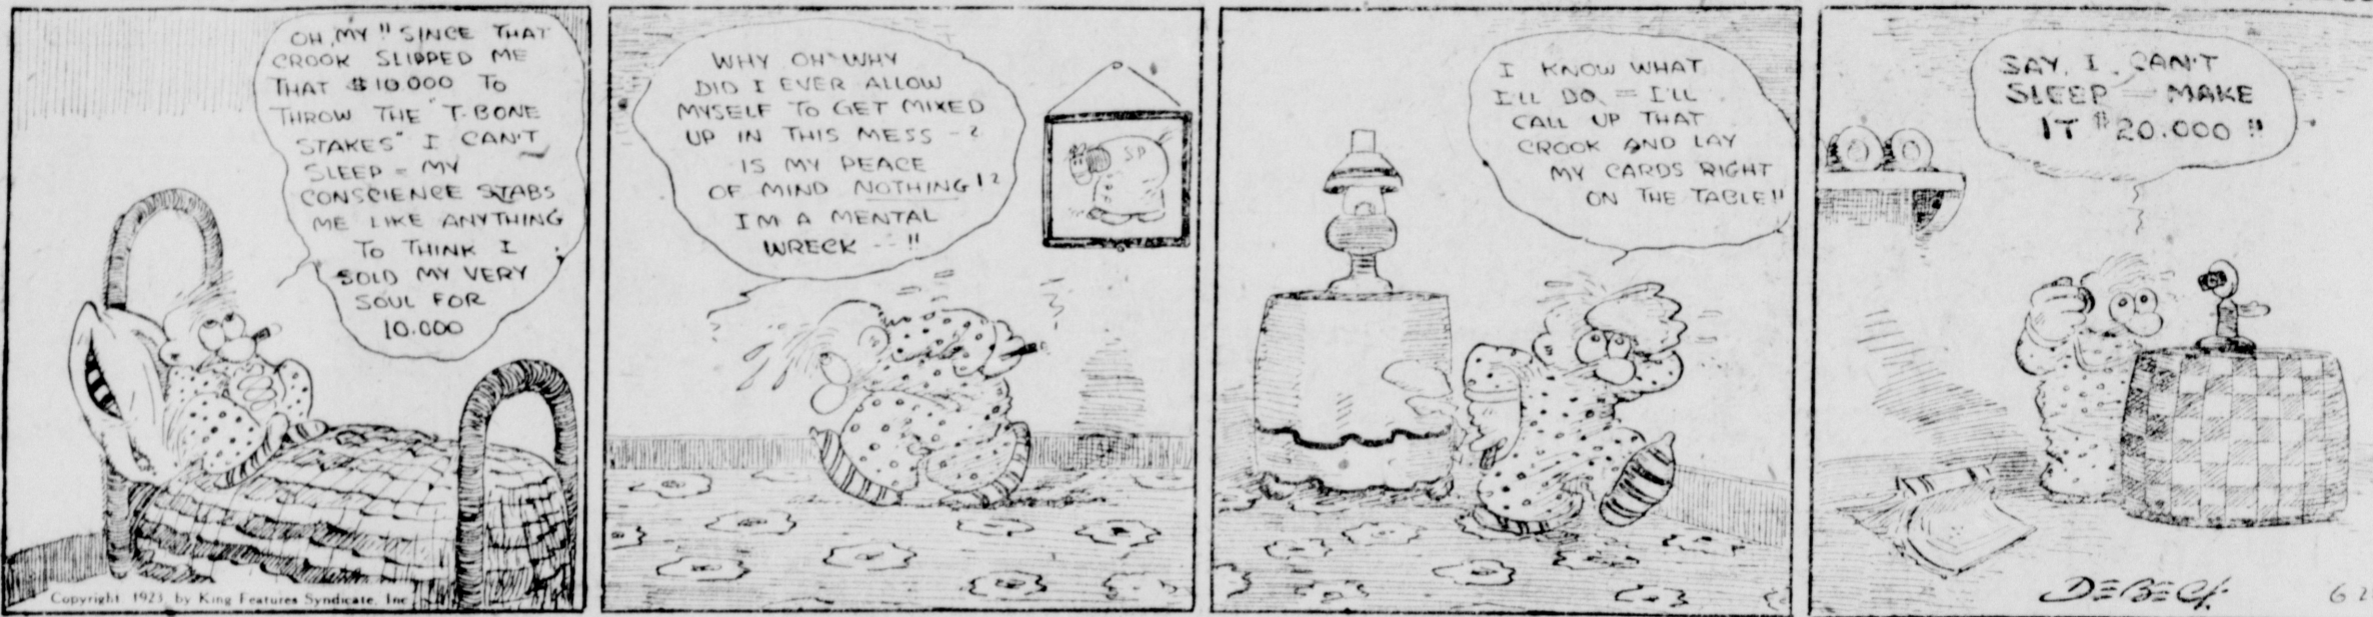

The trees of Borneo, the Philippines and New Guinea, it is said, are valuable enough to pay the allied debt. In these islands is the exquisite camagong, whose wood is yellow and black, like tortoiseshell. There is the molave, which resists the sea slug and white ants, and the beautiful red and yellow narra (mahogany), the red assuming a deep lustrous wine color when it is immersed in salt water. There is laum, which makes huge masts, and dugan, which is the hardest wood known. There is balete, a sort of fig which grows around other trees, killing them, and feeding on the dead trunk or it is entirely consumed.

PLANT TREE IN RIGHT PLACE

Much of Natural Beauty May Be Lost If Proper Spot Has Not Been Selected.

It is a beautiful thing to plant a tree, but it is doubly beautiful to plant the right tree in the right place.

The deed loses half of its beauty when a tree is placed where it does not belong, and where it will be impossible for it to add to the joy and comfort of those who may be near it in future years. A tree placed in a location where it will be in the way, and where it cannot develop in accordance with its natural tendencies, is doomed to be a failure. The same is likely to be true of the tree that is planted without thought as to the variety that is best suited to the situation. It is the tree planting that involves thought and judgment that is the real blessing to humanity.

The beautiful thing in the planting of the tree is the attitude of mind of the one who does it. Those who are to receive the benefits from the act appear long after the work is done; those who do the work are seldom directly rewarded for the labor. When a person plants a tree, he is contributing to the pleasure of generations to come, and if he plants the right tree in the right place he bestows a blessing upon others in the most unselfish manner. If, on the other hand, the wrong tree is planted, the future generations cannot reap the full benefit of the work done years before by the well-meaning but uninformed tree planter, and the deed as measured by results becomes less beautiful.—Illinois Arbor Day Bulletin.

NO CHANCE TO GET AWAY

As Clubman Mournfully Related, He Was Caught Whether He Was "Going or Coming."

President Walter C. Tangle of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey said the other day in Washington:

"The fable that my company runs chain stores and copper mines and restaurants and so on is so persistent, so indomitable, that it reminds me of a story.

"If you do not want to marry her, why on earth did you propose to her?" said one clubman to another.

"That's just it," said the other, "She proposed to me."

"Why didn't you have spunk enough to refuse her, then?"

"That's just it. I couldn't. She worded her proposal so cleverly, you see. She said, 'Will you marry me? Have you any objection?' Thus, whether I said yes or no, she had me. She had me going and coming."

"Not at all," said the first clubman, with a condescending laugh. "You should have observed a discreet silence!"

"Just what I did," said the other, "and she fell into my arms, murmuring that silence gave consent."—Los Angeles Times.

Completely Furnished

Salem's New Masonic Temple

How many people of the thousands who thronged Salem yesterday when the new Masonic Temple was dedicated, realized that this beautiful building was completely furnished within by this store? Naturally, it is a source of great satisfaction and pride to the R. S. McCulloch Company that this store was selected to supply the interior furnishings in competition with stores of much larger cities.

Curtains, Draperies, Rugs, Carpets, Table Linens—all were furnished by this store. And we are proud of our ability to perform this great service. We are prouder still to announce that we stand prepared on all occasions and at all times to serve the people of Salem and vicinity in the same complete and efficient manner by supplying merchandise at prices as low as good quality will permit.

Gas Pocket Explodes, Man Dies, Mine Fired

Morensville, W. Va., June 28.—When a pocket of gas in the Mound shaft of the Richland Coal company here, exploded yesterday afternoon, Wm. Robson, 44, was killed, he force of the explosion overturned the heavy motor upon which he was riding and he was horribly mangled beneath it.

The west workings were fired by the blast and this morning after an all-night fight against the flames, dense clouds of smoke were still issuing from the mine.

Must Trim Trees At McCracken's Corners

Trees and shrubbery around and near "Death Curve" at McCracken's corners, on the Lisbon-Salem rd., must be trimmed up so motorists can get a good view of approaching cars, according to an order issued by the county highway department. Motorists say that owing to the heavy foliage at this point they are unable to see the road for any safe distance.

you as leaders of men and of thought.

"Propagandists are trying to poison the ranks of Masonry but they are not succeeding because men in Masonry have the courage to tell you to stand up and think. Your conduct must square up with the teachings you receive in the Masonic lodge.

Express Same Sentiments

These sentiments were expressed by Mr. 27rd degree Mason, who declared that occurred in by Past Grand Master Frank S. Harmon of Cleveland, also a 3rd degree Mason, who declared that each individual has a duty to perform. "The rehabilitation of the world demands careful thought and attention," he declared.

Mr. Harmon called attention to the constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence. "That is the heritage that Masonry has today," he said, "and we must strive to preserve and perpetuate it."

Later in the ceremonies Dr. David Evans of Columbus, grand prelate of the grand commandery of Ohio and pastor of a large Methodist church in Columbus, expressed his approval of everything that Mr. Murphy had said and declared that he would use every opportunity in the pulpit and elsewhere to propound the doctrine of religious freedom expressed by Mr. Murphy and vouchsafed by the constitution of the United States.

Workmen are rapidly completing the approaches to the camp, building ten floors, pitching tents and placing cots. Quarters are being prepared for the nurses and play directors. A large dining tent is being erected as well as a cook tent.

WORLD COURT IS STILL LIVE TOPIC

PARTY LEADERS CAN'T MAKE UP MINDS WHETHER OR NOT HARDING IS WEAKENING.

SOME HOPE, OTHERS FEAR

President's Determination to Speak First on This Topic in St. Louis May Be Taken as Indicative of His Position.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—American membership in the World court continues to be a live topic in political and general official circles in Washington, and from messages which burden the wires and the mails it seems that the subject is still one of equally live real interest to the rest of the country.

President Harding's apparent determination to make his first World court speech in St. Louis has stirred the active interest, attention, and perhaps fear of those of his friends here whose desire is that party animosities shall not be roused in pre-convention days.

Somewhat peculiar pictures are presented in Washington today. On one canvass are seen the Republicans who insist the President is weakening in his expressed determination to push the World court proposal, and on the other are seen the Republicans who fear that he is not weakening in his determination. The latter daily are writing or talking after a manner which proves that their end is an endeavor to make the country believe the administration has gone back on its court intention.

Some of the patient ones are saying that their brethren might as well possess their souls in peace for a while and cease from borrowing trouble, waiting calmly until the first presidential speech is made. They argue that there is nothing to be gained by stirring up the animals in advance. When the President speaks he will have spoken and things will be clear.

Two White House Statements.

Twice from the White House have come authorized pronouncements on the subject of the World court and the apparent speaking intention of the President in reference thereto, and twice there have been two directly opposite interpretations put upon the words. In the first instance it was said that the President did not intend to attempt "to argue" the people into support of the court. This was taken pleasantly by the court opponents to mean that the administration would say nothing in behalf of the court while on its speechmaking trip.

Some days now have passed since the second pronouncement on the subject, bearing all the earmarks of authority, came from the White House. This second expression was to the effect that the President did not intend to quarrel over the matter of reservations to the World court plan probably to be proposed by the senate. This was perhaps nothing else than a natural expression of disinclination to contend with something which as yet had neither form nor substance.

Now that a little time has gone by since this second pronouncement, the effect of it is manifest in two quarters. Again it is heard that the President is weakening and that he will not set forth to the people in any strong way his belief that American membership in the World court will be a good thing for the world.

The friends of the World court plan found nothing in the second White House pronouncement which was of any particular interest one way or the other. They seemingly never had a thought that the President was going out to fight Senator Lodge, Senator Borah, Senator Johnson and some others in advance on political issues which have not yet materialized and which never may materialize. The fact that the President is to make his first speech on the World court in St. Louis, in a state in which so-called Republican irreconcilability is markedly strong, is perhaps thought by the administration to be the best way to set his position straight.

Alaska Also Interests.

Washington is not alone interested in the World court developments of the President's trip. Alaska is looming large again in interest here. Some months ago the President let it be known that he wanted to go to Alaska because he believed he could get more constructive information by observation in ten minutes than he could get by hearsay in ten months. What Washington wants to know is whether the President is going to keep himself aloof from the influence of the members of the factions which are bitterly opposed one to the other in their viewpoints and opinions on the subject of the causes of the troubles in the territory and the remedies therefor.

The Interior department and the Agriculture department have been at odds on the Alaska policy for a long time. It may be today that not all of Mr. Fall's views have been inherited by Mr. Work, but Mr. Wallace still is in office and still holds the views that he held when he and Mr. Fall clashed on the subject of Alaska's policy.

It is understood the Agriculture department chieftain will accompany the President on his Alaska journey. It is not as yet known whether Mr. Work will be a member of the party. The prime cause of the differences of opinion in the Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Interior is forestry.

Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. DONAHEY URGES REFERENDUM Condemns Solons' Action in Accepting Bryan Farm.

SENDS LETTER TO CHURCHMEN

Canals and Public Water Lands of Ohio Yield $1,000,000 Annually to the State—Supreme Court Ruling on Regulation of Motor Bus Lines by Municipalities—Public Utilities Commission Sustained.

Columbus, June 28.—Governor A. V. Donahey and presiding officers of the two houses of the Ohio general assembly have received copies of resolutions adopted by the Toledo Council of Churches in which is urged a referendum on the legislation enacted by the legislature, accepting on behalf of the state the John Bryan farm in Greene county. In reply the governor sent a letter to Dr. C. McLeon Smith, executive secretary of the Toledo Council of Churches, approving the protest registered in the resolutions and the suggestion that a referendum be instituted.

Citing the preamble of the constitution and "an entire section devoted to assuring the people of their rights to unrestrained worship at whatever shrine they may desire," the governor's letter says:

"After we read these references in our constitution and then think of a dead man fastening on society, for all time to come, a contract utterly repugnant to the spirit and letter of the constitution for a paltry $75,000 worth of land, in my opinion we shame the authors of our religious freedom, guaranteed by fundamental law of our state.

"I hope you will keep up the good fight to institute a referendum and I will be glad to assist you in any way I can. I would like to see other council of churches join in the movement. You may count on my doing my utmost as governor and citizen of Ohio to help you meet this affront to the Christian people of Ohio, and to remove this cancerous growth from the record of the general assembly. I can not understand what the assembly meant by the passage of such legislation and would like to see our great Christian citizenship erase this sole inhibition of religious freedom from Ohio statutes."

Governor Donahey vetoed the enactment pertaining to the acceptance of the farm. The legislature later repassed the measure over his veto.

Usefulness of canals have not ended with the expansion of rapid transit systems and the advent of the commercial automobile, according to E. E. Booben and Walter Rogers of the division of public works of the state highway department. Thirty years ago the canals figured largely in politics and like everything else so contaminated cost the taxpayers heavily—about $300,000 annually, according to Mr. Booben. Taken out of politics and placed under a state department, these old waterways are making the state nearly $200,000 each year, net profit.

This sum is largely paid by manufacturers who pay for the use of canal waters and parts of canal beds. The state even gets rent for telephone poles placed on canal land, $2 each. A gas company must pay for a pipe line over or under the canal bed.

Summit county industries paid the state $81,146 for canal rights last year, the Goodrich company $34,260 of this. The state collected $20,802 from Cuyahoga county interests and $8,491 from Franklin county firms. Concessions from state-owned lakes is also a source of revenue.

With a total of more than $1,000,000 coming into the state treasury annually from leasing of public water lands, there is a strong feeling in the public works department against the giving away by the legislature of canal lands or even permitting long leases. This was attempted during the last session of the legislature, which is supposed to look after the interests of the state's property.

Municipalities have a right to absolute regulation of motor bus lines which run on their streets, the Ohio supreme court holds in its latest ruling. The decision was made on a test of an ordinance of the village of Perryburg, Wood county, which prohibited buses from taking on or letting off passengers within the municipal limits. The court at the same time upheld a Toledo bus ordinance. W. E. Ridgway, Perryburg bus line operator, sought an injunction claiming the highways are for the public's convenience.

Judge Wanamaker in his opinion held that if the highways were to be constructed as being free for any thing, fees could not be charged for gas lines under them or wires over them or for interurban or street car rights of way. "The streets and alleys of a city are as the arteries and veins of a man's body and as such he must protect them," Wanamaker wrote.

A similar case on the home rule basis was also decided when the city

Persons who want anything know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Bowing Green was upheld in its ordinance regulating taxi and bus drivers.

In another decision the court held that municipalities can enact ordinances, however strict, just so they do not conflict "in spirit" with an act of the general assembly on the same subject. This decision was made in two cases from Mahoning county in which the validity of the liquor ordinances was questioned on the grounds that they carried penalties differing from those provided in the Crabbe act.

Rulings of the state public utilities commission in four cases have been sustained by the supreme court.

The city council of Portsmouth passed an ordinance fixing the rate on natural gas furnished by the United Fuel & Gas company, at 29 cents per cubic foot, net, Dec. 15, 1929. The company appealed to the commission, which fixed the rate at 40 cents net.

A similar state of affairs obtained with regard to the rate of service for Sciotoville, which village was annexed to the city of Portsmouth before the passage of the ordinance.

The United Fuel & Gas company also appealed from a 39-cent rate fixed by an ordinance in the city of New Boston. The commission fixed the rate at 40 cents.

The commission had denied the application of the Lima-Toledo Railroad Co. to issue and deliver to Thomas Newhall capital securities amounting to $2,750,000, in payment for the electrical property formerly owned by the Ohio Electric Railway Co., which Newhall had acquired.

In all of these proceedings, constituting appeals from the rulings of the commission, the supreme court upholds the commission.

Wholesale resignations from the teachers' force at the Girls' Industrial school will not interfere with the annual graduation exercises of the school scheduled for next week, officials say, as most of the girls had practically completed their school work. The resignations left the school with a force of only two teachers, they being Ina Terry in the eighth grade and Florence Morris in the seventh grade.

Resignations of eleven officials were reported to the welfare department by Mattie B. Pangborn, acting chief matron. In addition to these resignations, the state civil service commission was officially notified of the abolishment of the position of recreation director, a place held by Mrs. Beatrice Hunzicker for more than a year past. Resignations included the following teachers: Florence Joliff, Eva Bonham, Fern Ater, Irene Staley and Mrs. A. D. Barnett. These were all in the regular school work. The two domestic science teachers, Bernice Cross and Mary Williams, also quit the school. Arlie Bailey, industrial art teacher; Lillian Merchant, relief officer; Flora Matthews, parole officer; Allie Gossman, superintendent of bakery and central housekeeper, were also included in those whose resignations were accepted by the acting chief matron.

Practically all of these officials have been with the institution for many months and were in the classified service. No successors have been appointed as yet, and with the summer vacation coming on, it is doubtful whether all the places can be filled immediately.

An innovation has been instituted in the offices of Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson in the form of a large bulletin board which has been installed immediately outside the door of the adjutant general's private office and daily bulletins of personal interest to members of the Ohio guard posted thereon.

In a statement the adjutant general directs attention to the enhanced opportunity given members of the guard for entering the rifle matches at Camp Perry in September under the revision of the match regulations by the war department, of recent date. The new regulations provide that 50 percent of the men will have to be those who never before participated in a national match.

Another commendable change in the regulations is the lifting of the ban on the number of commissioned officers who may participate in the various team shoots.

Bids were opened recently in the adjutant general's department for forage for animals at Camp Perry and Camp Knox, according to Lieutenant Colonel Joseph H. Nichols, the United States property and disbursing officer for Ohio. The privilege for the canteen at Camp Perry for the coming summer has been awarded J. A. Lehnertz of Toledo. Mr. Lehnertz was the high bidder for this privilege.

MUST HAVE IRONING BOARD

Really Indispensable Article for Those Unfortunates Who Are Known as "Roomers."

There are many things that boarders and roomers have not, observes the New York Sun. But there is one thing they have, the fair sex, at least, short or tall, thin or fat, freckled or fair, whether they pay in advance or leave their baggage as security for back rent. It stamps them as one of the tribe. And that one thing is an ironing board. The board is usually a nondescript bit of pine or oak, around which has been wound a towel or unbleached muslin. It is of a size which will fit in the ordinary wardrobe trunk, and the fact that it is strictly taboo with landladies the land over makes it doubly treasured by its devotees.

Of course, it is used for an ironing board. When the covering is removed and the board stretched across an open bureau drawer it becomes a writing desk. Later it serves as a card table, and now and again, when milady treats herself to the luxury of breakfast in bed, it groans under the weight of a pot of home-brewed coffee and an egg boiled over an electric grill. Placed over the radiator, it becomes a convenient book shelf. Placed across a cane chair bottom one may stand on the chair without the fear of suddenly plunging through the seat. In fact, timid maiden ladies have even been known to prop the ironing board up beneath the knob of their door and breathe easier when it was sturdily in place. Veteran boarders and roomers say no home is complete without one, and no such home is.

THE WEAK EYES THAT COME AFTER MEASLES

What measles may do to the eyes of the sufferer from this disease depends on the ability of the eyes to resist. Those in whom resistance is weak may be seriously affected, even blinded, while those in whom resistance is strong, will quickly recover after the course of the disease is run.

Every mother owes it to the child that has had measles to see that the eyes come back to normal. To insure this the sufferer needs a scientific examination to determine the lenses to help raise resistance to normal by restoring the normal transmission of life impulses over the connective nerve lines.

BIG CITIES SEEK 1924 CONVENTIONS

SAN FRANCISCO WANTS REPUB-LICAN MEET AND NEW YORK
INVITES DEMOCRATS.

OTHERS ARE POSSIBILITIES

Aspirants for the Presidential Nomination Have Their Preferences—Soon They Will Be Selecting Orators to Present Their Names.

Washington.—Half a dozen cities of the country are striving for preference as host to one of the other great national political conventions which are to be held one year hence. San Francisco is making a special effort to secure the Republican convention, and New York city a special effort to secure the Democratic convention. Other cities want either one or the other, or both if possible.

Men who have presidential ambitions have their personal preference among cities. Politicians who are favorable to one candidate above all others also desire to bring about the selection of a city whose inhabitants are more favorable to their candidate than to any other. There is a certain "gallery psychology" which supposedly makes itself felt on the delegates to any convention. It is said that cheering galleries have nominated more than one candidate partly against the wishes of the assembled delegates.

There will be at least two candidates for the Republican nomination for the presidency next year, and, of course, possibly more. Already there are at least half a dozen candidates not personally announced, but announced by their friends, for the Democratic nomination. Soon every man with presidential nomination longings will begin to think on the selection of some one to present to the delegates his claims for preferment. It is a historic fact that on several occasions nominating speeches have turned the delegate tide toward the man in behalf of whom the speaker was making his effort.

Bryan Nominated Himself.

In this connection, of course, one case which comes most quickly to mind is that of William J. Bryan, who received his first nomination for the presidency in Chicago in 1896. This is a case with a difference, however, for Mr. Bryan was his own speaker on that occasion, although so far as was known, of course, he was not supposed to be speaking in behalf of himself. No politician can be found today who is ready to dispute the statement that William J. Bryan's "Cross of Gold and Crown of Thorns" utterance in Chicago in 1896 was the prime cause of his receiving the nomination.

The writer heard an old campaigner say the other day that a short speech never nominated anybody for the presidency. There is sufficient authorization for saying that the veteran party man was mistaken. Senator Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois once said to the writer that he thought he had made the shortest successful nomination speech in behalf of a presidential candidate that ever was delivered. The senator then handed the writer a copy of the speech which he made at the Republican convention of 1872 nominating Ulysses S. Grant for a second term. Here it is:

"Gentlemen of the convention: On behalf of the great Republican party of Illinois and that of the Union—in the name of liberty, of loyalty, of justice, and of law—in the interest of economy, of good government, of peace, and of the equal rights of all—remembering with profound gratitude his glorious achievements in the field and his noble statesmanship as chief magistrate of this great nation—I nominate for president of the United States for a second term Ulysses S. Grant."

Orator Gave Blaine's Name Wrong.

Occasionally a nominating speech comes pretty close to undoing a candidate. James G. Blaine was a candidate before several conventions of his party prior to the time that he finally received the nomination in 1884. In the convention of 1880 an absolutely inexcusable error was made by the man who placed Blaine in nomination. He was a man who had known the Maine statesman all his life, who was familiar and intimate with him socially and yet he committed the unpardonable blunder of getting Blaine's name wrong when he reached the nominating climax.

In presenting the name of the Maine man the nominating orator made a great speech. It was said to be one of the finest deliveries ever heard in a convention hall. He neared its conclusion, summarized the achievements of his favorite, and then, woe is woe, he gave his name as "James B. Blaine."

When this slip was made the delegates and the people in the galleries gasped and then flattered. The whole force of the speech was lost, for a flatter is deadly. The situation came near being saved, however, by William P. Frye of Maine. He quickly sprang to the platform and made a ringing impromptu speech in behalf of his fellow citizen of Maine. It hardly need be said that Senator Frye got the name right. He gave it in full and ringingly, James Gillespie Blaine.

CLAIMS SPRINGER HEIRS ARE HOAXED

Wilmington, Del. June 28.—All Wilmington is smiling at reports from various parts of the middle west that the city has agreed to pay the so-called Springer heirs a half billion dollars in settlement of their claims to property in the heart of the city.

The "claims" of the "heirs" of Charles Christopher Springer, an early settler, have been investigated on several occasions and are declared nothing more than a myth. Report that the city intended settling for a half billion originated in Chicago several weeks ago. As the entire assessed value of property in Wilmington is only $114,000,000 the humor of the report is patent.

No action ever has been brought in courts here by Springer "heirs" and according to literature received here the "heirs" are being hoaxed by enterprising genealogists who charge fees for membership in a Springer family association.

Boulay to Succeed Herrick as State Highway Director.

IS A CONSULTING ENGINEER

Marked Improvement Noted in the Housing Situation Throughout Ohio. Increase Shown in Volume of Live Stock Going to Market Through Co-operative Associations—Growth of Ohio State University.

Columbus, June 28.—L. A. Boulay of Toledo, president of the Boulay-Harrison company, consulting engineers, will succeed Leon C. Herrick as state highway director when the latter retires next Monday. Boulay's appointment has just been announced by Governor Donahey.

Herrick's retirement brings to a close a series of disagreements between the administration and the highway department since Governor Donahey took over the reins of state government and gives to the latter the supervision of highway affairs in Ohio for the first time since he took office. Herrick's refusal to resign with the retirement of other Davis members of the cabinet left the governor powerless to dislodge him because of the constitutional office of superintendent of public works, which the Davis reorganization code merged with that of highway director. The superintendent of public works serves for annual periods terminating on July 1, which counts for the Herrick hold-over.

Boulay, of the new highway director, is 45 years of age, married and a veteran of the Spanish-American and world wars. He has been actively engaged in engineering work for the past 25 years, 17 of which he has spent in Toledo. He has completed two years of his engineering course at Georgetown university at Washington, when he dropped his studies to enlist in the District of Columbia national guard for the Spanish-American war. He saw service in the battle of Santiago and upon being discharged from the army entered upon a series of engineering engagements, which took him to many parts of the world, including China, the Philippines, Cuba and Mexico. He joined an engineering firm in Toledo in 1907. During the late war he was a captain of engineers at Camp Fremont, California, and was preparing to embark with his organization for Siberia when the armistice was declared.

A survey made by the United States department of labor shows improvement in the housing situation throughout Ohio. Among the Buckeye towns surveyed only two show a slowing up of residential building construction. In Hamilton 161 families were accommodated in new buildings in 1922 as compared with 192 similarly accommodated in 1921, and in Lorain 96 families were accommodated in new buildings in 1922 as against 146 in 1921.

The number of families accommodated in new buildings in each city is as follows: Cleveland, 5,153 in 1922 as against 4,084 in 1921 and 2,768 in 1920; Cincinnati, 2,609 in 1922 as against 4,084 in 1921 and 444 in 1920; Columbus, 2,477 in 1922 as against 1,317 in 1921; Toledo, 1,126 in 1922 as against 600 in 1921; Dayton, 961 in 1922 as against 546 in 1921 and 260 in 1920; Akron, 386 in 1922 as against 234 in 1921; Youngstown, 734 in 1922 as against 724 in 1921 and 333 in 1920; Canton, 660 in 1922 as against 403 in 1921 and 312 in 1920; Lima, 227 in 1922 as against 155 in 1921 and 90 in 1920; Mansfield, 145 in 1922 as against 72 in 1921; Marion, 68 in 1922 as against 44 in 1921; Newark, 108 in 1922 as against 52 in 1921; Portsmouth, 261 in 1922 as against 113 in 1921; Springfield, 357 in 1922 as against 253 in 1921 and 240 in 1920; Warren, 176 in 1922 as against 171 in 1921; Zanesville, 145 in 1922 as against 56 in 1921.

State Director of Welfare John E. Harper let it be known that an appropriation of $200,000, made two years ago by the legislature to purchase a site for a new institution for the feeble-minded, will be allowed to lapse. Under the appropriation the money will have to be used on or before June 30.

Mr. Harper's decision not to take advantage of the grant was made known in a letter to Dr. Thomas A. Rattiff, Cincinnati, chairman of the mental hygiene council of the Public Health Federation. It answered a letter of the latter's which urged the purchase of the site. "I have become firmly convinced that the expenditure of this appropriation at this time would be unwise, both from the standpoint of economics and of public policy," Mr. Harper wrote.

The director pointed out that two previous administrations over a period of four years failed to make use of appropriations made for the same purpose by the legislature, and said he did not want to do hastily "what my predecessors, including two boards of administration, serving under two governors, failed to do after long consideration." He asserted also that there is no money available for buildings and equipment, even if a site were obtained, the general assembly having failed to follow his recommendations for such funds.

Options obtained in the last two years on a number of sites, Mr. Harper declared, are "two high." "I agree with you fully that a new institution is needed," he continued. "It may be that two institutions should be erected in the near future—one in the northern part of the state and another in the southern part. All such speculation at this time, however, is idle, until the necessary funds for buildings are made available at another session of the legislature. In the meantime, it will be my purpose to provide all the accommodations possible at the Orient branch of the Columbus institution for the feeble-minded, so far as the limited funds at my disposal will permit."

A summary just completed by the live stock marketing department of the Ohio Farm bureau federation shows an increase of about 40 per cent in the volume of live stock going to market through co-operative associations in Ohio during the 12-month period ending March 31. Totals in market value for the 12-month period are given by the report as $14,004,060.33. This figure compares with an $8,272,599.60 total for the previous 12-month period and shows an increase of 49.9 per cent. The increase is further shown in a comparison of the 86,324 individual shipments reported this year as compared to 46,059 on last year's report. Seven new counties started the co-operatives during the 12 35 cents to $1.08 in the various counties.

The Cleveland terminal received 5,195 decks of the 10,322 shipped by the co-operatives during the 12-months, with other markets favored being Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Buffalo and Toledo in the order named. The per hundredweight expense of getting live stock to market averaged 67.4 cents a hundred, exclusive of shrink, with the figure varying from 35 cents to $1.08 in the various counties.

Fayette county led all counties in the value of live stock going to market through co-operative channels during the 12 months, replacing Madison county, which had the position a year ago. Fayette's total was $891,202.26, with Putman, with a total of $873,306.99, following closely. Other leading counties were Wyandot, with a value of $704,827.30 for co-operatively marketed live stock; Darke with $685,590.67, Madison with $630,431.05, and Logan with $629,104.02.

Ohio State university now ranks sixth in size among all the colleges and universities of the country. From a faculty of seven and a student body of 17, when it opened its doors in 1873, the institution has expanded until today it has a teaching staff of more than 600 and an enrollment of more than 8,000. Designated by law as the Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical college, the university was founded as the result of the land grants by congress in 1862 for the purpose of establishing new institutions of higher learning in the states. The grant to Ohio provided the receipts from the sale of 630,000 acres of public land as a permanent endowment. Sold at prices ranging from 53 to 82 cents an acre, total receipts from the sale of the strip were $342,430. The legislature formally accepted the offer of congress in February, 1864. The act under which the institution was organized was passed in 1870.

Matters then dragged on until 1871, when, after an investigation of sites in Clark, Champaign, Montgomery and Franklin counties, the proposition of the latter county was accepted. The tract known as the Neil farm was acquired as the site for the university at a cost of $117,508, all of which but $34,245 was subscribed by the county and its citizens.

Dr. Edward Orton, Sr., was its first president. Only one building, the present University hall, still used for administrative purposes, was available when the institution opened its doors. The first class, consisting of six, was graduated in 1878. In that same year the legislature changed the name of the institution to the Ohio State university.

In 1893 the trustees, in seeking a successor to President W. H. Scott, considered among others Woodrow Wilson, then a Princeton professor, and William Howard Taft, both of whom later became presidents of the United States. Dr. Wilson wrote a classmate that he did not feel the conditions offered to him gave him the scope for action that he believed necessary in order to carry out his views with regard to university administration. Mr. Taft, at that time, solicitor general of the United States, replied that while he appreciated the honor he could not think of accepting it as his ambition was solely along judicial lines. Dr. J. H. Canfield of the University of Nebraska and father of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, the novelist, eventually was chosen.

Under the administration of Dr. William O'Leary Thompson, who has been president for the last 24 years, the university attained its greatest growth. The lone college of a few decades ago has grown to 10 colleges and the graduate school. The Sterling-Ohio Medical college was absorbed a little more than a decade ago, giving the university a medical school and a dental college.

THE HAWK-EYE CAMERA

Is a well made, substantial camera in every respect. It loads in daylight, has automatic shutter for time and snap shot exposures, and a carefully tested meniscus lens of the very finest quality. Each camera is thoroughly tested by the Eastman Kodak Co. before it is sent out.

Everybody in This City Should Have a Camera

Amateur photography has been made so easy, and there is such pleasure and satisfaction in pictures with our personal interests in them, that one who hasn't a camera is really depriving himself of a great deal of pleasure, which he could otherwise have, with practically no effort on his part.

So it is that arrangements have been made by our Savings and Loan, in co-operation with the largest Savings and Loans in this country and the Eastman Kodak Co., by which a fully reliable, simple operated camera can be placed in the hands of everyone.

This Savings and Loan has been selected to make the distribution for this city and we strongly recommend our patrons to get one of these excellent cameras before the campaign is over.

TO ANYONE OPENING UP A SAVINGS ACCOUNT TO THE AMOUNT OF $10.00 OR MORE WE WILL PRESENT A CAMERA FREE

Special Offer—If you haven't $10.00 to start an account, you may deposit $1.00 at a time. We will put a Camera away for you, and as soon as your account amounts to $10.00 the Camera is yours.
